(2) Landscape and aesthetic value

The object of this value is to identify trees that are of particular importance to the community due to their substantial contribution to the surrounding landscape.

A tree may be considered to be of landscape and aesthetic value if it is situated in a prominent location when viewed from a public place and it:
(a) contributes significantly to the surrounding landscape based on its overall form, structure, vigour and aesthetic values; or
(b) represents an outstanding example of the species, including age, size or habit; or
(c) is an exceptional example of a locally native species that reached maturity prior to urban development in its immediate vicinity.

Statement against the Criteria

This tree has been selected for inclusion on the Tree Register in recognition of its outstanding landscape value. This Eucalyptus blakelyi is full of character and is an important habitat tree. There are a large number of hollows throughout the tree and there is evidence and sightings of frequent use by many native bird species and possums.
The tree is located at a major intersection and contributes significantly to the surrounding landscape on account of its unique character and form. The tree is in a prominent location near the Belconnen town centre and would be seen by thousands of people each day. It is an exceptional example of a locally native species that reached maturity prior to urban development in the area.
