Good afternoon,

I'm just writing to request several FOI's on behalf of [REDACTED]

- All feedback collected from the recent YourSay Tuggeranong Foreshore Improvements survey
- All documents relating to the investigation of the firewood delivery carried out by a TCCS vehicle at McConnel Cres, Kambah

Kind regards,

Freedom of Information Request - Reference 22-091

I refer to your application for access to government information received by Transport Canberra and City Services (TCCS) on 17 June 2022 seeking access to the following government information under the Freedom of Information Act 2016:

“All feedback collected from the recent Your Say Tuggeranong Foreshore Improvements Survey”.

Timeframes

A decision was due on your application by 15 July 2022. I thank you for agreeing to an extension until 22 July 2022.

Authority

I am an Information Officer appointed by the Director-General under section 18 of the Act to deal with access applications made under Part 5 of the FOI Act.

Decision on access

In accordance with the FOI Act, a search of TCCS records has been completed. The raw data from YourSay has been exported and includes both the survey component and interactive map.

In applying the public interest test under section 17 of the FOI Act, I have decided to provide you with full disclosure of the records.

The documents are listed in the schedule at Attachment A. A copy of the records is at Attachment B. The reasons for my decision are provided below under the statement of reasons.

Statement of Reasons

In making my decision on disclosing government information, I must identify all relevant factors in schedule 2 of the FOI Act and determine, on balance, where the public interest lies. In reaching my access decision, I have taken the following into account:

Factors favouring disclosure in the public interest (Schedule 2, Section 2.1)

- Section 2.1(a)(i) - promote open discussion of public affairs and enhance the government's accountability; and
- Section 2.1(a)(viii) - reveal the reason for a government decision and any background or contextual information that informed the decision.

Factors favouring non-disclosure (Schedule 2, Section 2.2)

- No factors were found favouring non-disclosure.

In accordance with the FOI Act, I find that the disclosure of the information within this record is, on balance, in the public interest.

Charges

Pursuant to Freedom of Information (Fees) Determination 2018 processing charges are applicable for this request because the total number of pages to release to you exceeds the charging threshold of 50 pages. However, the charges have been waived in accordance with section 107(2)(e) of the Act.

Online publishing – disclosure log

Under section 28 of the Act, TCCS maintains an online record of access applications called a disclosure log. Your original access application, my decision and documents will be published in the TCCS disclosure log between 3 – 10 business days from the date of this decision.

Personal information and business affairs relating to a third party will not be published. You may view the TCCS' disclosure log at https://www.cityservices.act.gov.au/about-us/freedom_of_information/disclosure-log.

73185	Apr 17, 2022, 07:06 PM	I have heard that, in the future, the ACT may consider a NZ style upzoning to allow more effective infill, and build more resilient suburbs with the missing middle. 73181	Apr 17, 2022, 03:56 PM	Wow, I never knew they had names, but they are good ones. That's a plus for me: endearing names!	Trees/landscaping

If there are more roof colours, it probably shouldn't be regular bundles of dark grey.

There could be a mix of: (well-shuffled)

Red and associated colours (because it already exists in Tuggeranong)

Earth colours (to blend in with soil, ground, trees. Can be vernacular, orderly or disorderly)

Multicolours (to stand out and complement dull colours by being colourful)

Pastel (light colours, including white & grey, like blue, cyan, green, etc.)

Unusual, venus (leaf), geometric, natural (shapes)

The roofs can be roughed up with contours, like regular changes in buildings, or separated with the colours, etc. and filled in with lots of trees and greenery. Landscape for more natural transitions into native woodland, as if the city is a forest oasis.

Other improvement

I actually quite like this facade, it is different but not cold.

It may have been interesting if it were to perhaps 'interact' more with the street and the other buildings opposite and adjacent; it sort of feels like it should 'sweep' down with its dividing (of bulk) bars in a wave form over the road, like a skybridge, to a taller glass extension to an opposite building. It is also quite a large building, and it could have a more gradual descent on its sides.

And, as with most streets -- more trees, more pedestrian-friendly, more enclosure, more cohesive interaction with the whole fabric of the network to the lake and different uses.

73177 Apr 17, 2022, 02:08 PM

Trees/landscaping

This is quite an interesting place with some opportunity.
 In a way, it's a bad location, because it is surrounded by relatively busy roads, but it has a border of trees and the buildings themselves provide noise insulation for at least one half.

Tuggeranong can take inspiration from villages for many places. Indeed, people like small-town and village 'feel', the sort of things which we may go to Europe to say in practice but not deem it practical enough here.
 In some cases, however, there are lots of aspects we can learn from. One is the human-scale, which can be a sort of intuitive sense of how far features of the built environment you may consider are from each other.
 This is why many places in Australia can feel exposed and alienating, because they are designed for the car alone, and are unfriendly to any human interaction.
 These things can be aided by first-hand experience on-site, as well as visualising form for best experiential comfort.

73176 Apr 17, 2022, 02:04 PM

Safety is another side-effect.

Other improvement

I was thinking that there are a few possibilities for this area.

Reed St N, which eventually leads to the park and lake, could be made into more of a Newcastle Hunter St-stye laneway, with trees and activity on either side. To give it the bustling alley feel, the building heights can exceed the width of the street, making it more shaded with the trees, and each shop should be a little nook along the ground floor.
 Ideally, on one block or much more, the autoluw model should be used, to encourage targeted and incidental movement which sustains itself without needing to provide for too much parking. (There is some double deja vu for some reason...)
 It can also be a colourful place to lake, like hanging umbrellas or lanterns.

73175 Apr 17, 2022, 01:53 PM

The block with the crests on each corner can either be filled like a Euro-bloc, turned into a leafy courtyard for events connecting to the lane, or filled in with haphazard buildings mixed with greenery and divided slightly from the lane perhaps with a large arch.

Other improvement

73170 Apr 17, 2022, 08:30 AM

If it's possible in some way, perhaps the transition from mall to street on the lake-town perpendicular axis could be more connected, such as opening parts of it to the outside, whilst getting a lively main-street appeal.

Other improvement

73169 Apr 17, 2022, 08:27 AM	Perhaps there could be better integration of public space here, from the lake through the formal gardens and the public square being an easy gathering space with shops on the other side. The barrier being the road could be lessened.	Trees/landscaping
73168 Apr 16, 2022, 07:17 PM	I very much like the installations here. :)	Seating
73167 Apr 16, 2022, 07:00 PM	The prominence of street-corner towers is very nice. And also the red theme. I think that there could be a little bit more enclosure provided at this intersection, which could also be raised for walkability and safety.	Other improvement
73166 Apr 16, 2022, 06:51 PM	There are lots of trees planted, which is good, but I think that too many of the streets rely on mature trees in order to work, which is a sign that the streets need something else to work on their own, so that the trees add to it. Trees are valuable pieces of infrastructure.	Trees/landscaping
73165 Apr 16, 2022, 06:49 PM	The contrast of taller buildings with these single-storey ones is probably too great. Whilst keeping the style which exists, the buildings around Tuggeranong Square should probably be at least 3 storeys high, up to 6. The road also maintains its width as if to maintain on-street parking, whilst simultaneously providing it within the square, so it should probably narrow by this intersection. All the buildings around here should be closer to matching the street widths, and if slightly less, should have much larger trees.	Other improvement
73164 Apr 16, 2022, 06:38 PM	The networks of ponds down here could possibly be greater connected, and less segregated by intersecting roads.	Path improvements
73163 Apr 16, 2022, 06:37 PM	I don't know whether it would be possible to greater connect walker access from Greenway and the lake towards Urambi Hills, and along the creek.	Path improvements

Perhaps this entrance to Tuggeranong could be converted into a more pedestrian-centric boulevard, from the centre across the bridge (to be more of a sightseeing location) and towards greater Tuggeranong.

It could help bridge the gap from Greenway to the other side of the lake. There are already three entrances by major road, so it could benefit to make one slightly less direct to encourage the dispersion of active and public transport.

73162 Apr 16, 2022, 06:35 PM

Path improvements

There could be an amphitheatre-formed built area generally following the oval, bordered by growing more trees, and also filling in spaces not just by masterplanning large chunks of repetitive or monotonous developments, but encouraging either physically or facadally breaking up the street-fronts of the lengths of buildings.

I would recommend looking at cities like Amsterdam, or Vienna, which demonstrate good planning and medium-density progression respectively. In older European Australia, construction was a mix between small private building for local business purposes or public building projects (which often had a style), and this could be brought to the modern day in line with Burley Griffin's organic development ideals.

73161 Apr 16, 2022, 06:24 PM

Other improvement

In order to make the streetscape a bit more inviting in this area with shadow + sun-exposed, the physical connection between the buildings here can be brought closer to the funnel towards the lake.

To preserve the car-park, the length of the street could be narrowed, and some sort of barrier between the yard and the street could be put in, like display stalls.

The carpark itself could reduce the prevalence of asphalt and instead pave the area to be more pedestrian-friendly, and shaded with sails.

The height of the apartments can be brought down with both greenery on the street and on the building sides, and also activating the streetscape with mixed-use shops, widened and continuous footpaths, and more street amenities like seating and lamps.

73160 Apr 16, 2022, 06:18 PM

For less important parking, there can be infill which encloses the street properly for its width, and creates interest and more economy.

Other improvement

This half of Greenway is a little neglected (probably because it is solely commercial/industrial) and could do with a lot more trees, traffic-calmed streets, and possibly lessening the car-yard look of the place by diversifying the usage of the area, adding in some more greenery with parks, grass, and trees, etc.

Also, since it is urban, the pedestrian & cycling infrastructure should interrupt the road infrastructure, not the other way around; so that cars feel they have to slow down and act as respectful guests in the populated areas.

73159 Apr 16, 2022, 06:11 PM

Trees/landscaping

Can't wait for a light-rail or even a conventional heavy rail down to Tuggeranong and across the region.

Where these two highways meet and surround Greenway below, I was considering whether it would be possible to greater distinguish the functions of the distributors, so that the impact on the actual destinations they arrive at is minimised?

Canberra had the benefit of being planned from the start, but the transport network of the original Burley Griffin plan was a little bit ignored in favour of cars only, instead of the planned tram and train network, and density with impressive monuments, complementing the great landscape, and, well 'Parisian beauty' and 'Washington DC prominence'.

73158 Apr 16, 2022, 05:28 PM

Other improvement

Are these three little islands?

They're cute, and it'd be a little funny if there were like little glowing phantoms on each of them at random...!

It is always interesting to just see little treed spots surrounded by water, inaccessible but observable, (this is an un-serious ramble, just interested in placemaking) so that little bit of interest could be a source of a little bit of fun for walking children around the lake to spot fairies (just a soft flash of coloured light, like a cheap solar LED) from a distance.

73157 Apr 16, 2022, 05:22 PM

Trees/landscaping

It would be an interesting preliminary experiment (for wider adoption) to consider this:

In the move to Reconciliation with the local Ngarigo and Ngunnawal peoples and greater Aboriginal Community across Australia (the world's oldest continuous cultures), would it perhaps be possible to integrate locations like shrines or churches -- locations allowing spiritual connection to the land at one specific location in urban contexts?

These could be little spots scattered at regular intervals of population zones, like Shinto shrines, with the approval and guidance of local elders. There could be symbols ranging in size, providing shelter and protection, featuring plants and information.

I have not explored the viability of this subject, but I would like for the inclusion of Aboriginal culture to be greater in Australian cities and participation across our communities.

With $500 million for the AWM we should honour those who died defending this native Land against invaders, not just abroad

73156 Apr 16, 2022, 05:16 PM

Seating

The walking/cycling network should be more complete than the through-traffic road network, supplying catchments across greater Tuggeranong direct from home-to-function.

That is, more convenient than getting into a car when you want to grab something at the shops.

It will also reduce the need for more roads which are degraded over time by heavy traffic. The cars which use them at great speeds (in the middle of populated areas) are very detrimental, including from the slow-impacting damage to ears.

By encouraging a more active community, there will be countless health benefits and cost-savings.

73155 Apr 16, 2022, 05:07 PM

Path improvements

Bounded by the bridges;
From a more cloistered built-up water-feature/quay area, to a bosky more peaceful transition area, to a both livelier yet more tranquil greater expanse of water, with format-painted human-natural harmony.

73154 Apr 16, 2022, 05:02 PM

Other improvement

73151 Apr 16, 2022, 04:59 PM	It could be perhaps an opportunity to have this narrower waterway be more interactive with the built environment, which could be more cohesively and holistically woven around this shape; similar to hybrid park/passive & active shop scenes by the waterside or bordered by trees to be split on two levels for commercial, residential, or leisure.	Other improvement
73150 Apr 16, 2022, 04:56 PM	Great expanses of concrete or exposed, continuous forms which can be seen from space should be probably generally avoided for the sake of more effective land-use, loss of useable green-space, and more intuitive and specific way-finding.	Other improvement
73149 Apr 16, 2022, 04:46 PM	I really like this stretch, and it has a lot of potential. I think it should be the minimum standard for quality across Greenway. However, I think parts of it are a bit to 'sanitised' or 'Canberra-mediocre', that is, lacking in interest, spontaneity, diversity, or some silly humanity. Visually, I think the most intensive parts here should feel like walking through a tall enchanted forest, with little quirks and colours to spot as you explore, and things to do on the way. This can be achieved through enclosure. If the forest ends, it feels empty, but the occasional glade is good. The cheapest way to do this is through canopied street trees (the urban forest), but it would also be a practical move to, with the library as inspiration, create a higher building layer to achieve a roughly 1:1 scale with the street width, whilst having unique, friendly characters as buildings.	Other improvement
73147 Apr 16, 2022, 02:46 PM	It is good as a park, but perhaps there could be a maritime pavilion-like structure which well-complements the inlet opposite (in Greenway)? Just a small, inoffensive structure, which is simply designed to reflect a portion of the other side of the lake on this side, whilst still being surrounded by natural features and native vegetation, walking and recreational areas.	Trees/landscaping

73146 Apr 16, 2022, 02:44 PM	There is also a lot of opportunity for infill, which can be roughly similar in design or reference to surrounding buildings, but slightly different and varying in form (narrow, square, rectangular tops, mansard roofs, etc.). Perhaps there is opportunity for greater community involvement in deciding designs for a more organic shifting of the urban fabric; a natural temporal evolution of the buildings in Tuggeranong, whether they be relating to vernacular or culture.	Other improvement
73145 Apr 16, 2022, 02:41 PM	In built-up areas away from streets, it could be possible to have larger buildings which look good from a distance, and are utilised from within, rather than from the street, because large office buildings on streets are usually wide dead spots unless they have mixed-use ground floors.	Other improvement
67429 Apr 15, 2022, 05:20 PM	Perhaps a noise-monitoring system could be created, like some cities in Europe, in order to inform addressing noise pollution and make the urban experience more peaceful and comfortable. As well as light-pollution, and many other forms. Sustainability can be addressed in many ways, and will ultimately be inevitable that we transition to a less consumerist but more wellbeing-oriented model.	Other improvement
67377 Apr 15, 2022, 05:14 PM	These buildings are needed, and for variety are good, I think it may be good for Tuggeranong to have at least a nod in each building to the fairly consistent theme of Tuggeranong -- whether it be roof colour (ranging from red, pink, orange, yellow) or street-level facades. There is plenty of opportunity for infill across Greenway, which will help densification for mixed-use (housing, accommodation, business, services, shops). It is fairly flat, so there are fairly few challenges, and historically, it is a part of the evolving character of communities, where taller buildings are built where they're needed, and the surrounding ones slowly follow suit either by extension or deconstruction. This also gives more variety to the buildings.	Other improvement

66943 Apr 15, 2022, 04:17 PM	I think there could be a whole lot more activity on this side of Greenway, but at the moment it is essentially a stroad with a lot of gaps along it, when it could be a lot more efficient to be a bit less oppressively car-centric. It is along these wider stretches that there should also be wider footpaths, bigger street trees, and taller buildings are more tolerated (to closer match the 1:1 scale). It would also be in interesting experiment to see whether public-transit routes could be accommodated on their own lanes, as well as providing separated cycleways.	Other improvement
66941 Apr 15, 2022, 04:14 PM	For walkability reasons, it is good to have narrower distances between different things (such as shopfront widths) to provide interest and give the perception that the walker is moving faster (less of a chore). There could also be a better transition, filling in the missing middle, from the highest (apartments to townhouses) density to the lowest (duplexes to cottages), and perhaps there could be more Belgian/Dutch-style mixed-use facades over practical bodies.	Other improvement
66924 Apr 15, 2022, 04:08 PM	There are some blank lengths along the streets. Again, they could house small local shop spaces and on-street activity. Along some wider stretches, the height of buildings can be increased slightly to provide more enclosure (more like Parisian Haussmann blocks), or there should be bigger street trees.	Other improvement
66915 Apr 15, 2022, 04:05 PM	I especially love the library building, and it is great on the lake. To greater connect the lake up to the centre, there could be more continuous pavement -- that is, streets where cars are guests, and their medium does not interrupt the city and push through, but is rather just an accessibility.	Other improvement
66892 Apr 15, 2022, 04:01 PM	The head of the fish? :) Perhaps the intensity of the road system could be reduced from this point (into the centre), and more activated streets for people, not just cars.	Other improvement
66876 Apr 15, 2022, 03:58 PM	Perhaps auto-dimming if they can be done effectively and cheaply? And as with others, priority on walkers and cyclists over cars.	Path improvements

66855 Apr 15, 2022, 03:56 PM This is some prime real estate, and it would be wasted as just a car-park. For now, it is useful, but once the transport plan is established, this may be a point to continue the Tuggeranong-themed buildings along the lake here, or create some sort of cloistered garden.

Other improvement

The Brindabellas are remarkable from here, and perhaps the natural assets here around the Murrumbidgee could be integrated into the same sort of activity as proposed for Greenway, but in terms of viewing, recreation, and markets, rather than actual built footprint.

These natural landscapes also need to be preserved. And land-value tax would encourage more effective land-use (which just so happens to be more village-like) and is also naturally progressive, able to replace most others. Zoning can also be replaced for a more inclusive, self-reliant, organic/natural model.

66808 Apr 15, 2022, 03:44 PM In general, density can be increased so that suburban sprawl is no longer urban sprawl, but a choice (more like a European model). There should also be less wasteful use of wide asphalt per dwelling in order to be more sustainably future-proof.

Trees/landscaping

There are a lot of bisecting motorways, which are designed to convey a lot of fast vehicular traffic over long distances.

These tend to be incredibly dangerous to vulnerable road users, and detrimental to health in other ways such as constant low and loud noise.

Whenever vulnerable road users and fast-moving vehicles enter into conflict, there should be consistent bypasses for them.

I have been decrying the number of large and wide roads, however, since they already exist, there needs to be a broader strategy in collaboration with a regional strategy which categorises and directs traffic.

These can fit into a few different uses:

Inter-urban connectors - fast, uninterrupted highways from city-city

Arterials - mono-functional routes for each transit mode. Ideally, Canberra should have more trains

Urban - mix of low-traffic autoluw, pedestrianised, high-activity multi-use streets. Like Melbourne CBD

Residential - narrow service roads (not exposed wasteland) for AAA use, very

Path improvements

This could be quite a good square, with features and local business.

If the traffic is calmed, considering that we want most cars passing through to be doing so because they want to go here and add to the economy, then this intersection can be raised to pavement level, and the entrance of cars narrowed.

There can also be a protected cycleways on the entrance roads leading here too, as well as the general narrowing of the car-used part of the road to psychologically lower speeds.

There should especially be more street trees, such as ones which form a continuous canopy, and also native street trees, like argyle apple, other eucalypts, wattles, and exotics.

Trees/landscaping

It is a wonderful view across the lake to Mount Taylor, often reflected symbolically into the crystalline lake.

The one detraction could be that the entire length of the path may not be the most encouraging to stay, which can be improved by reducing the exposure from the sun (trees), increasing seating, separating transit modes or slowing recreational cyclists along here to be at the pace of commuter cyclists and walkers, increasing the activities along the waterfront such as Melbourne-style shops and continuing the pier-walk theme, and finally addressing detrimental noise coming from cars on nearby roads and arterials either by reducing car-use/speed or soundproofing with trees or denser buildings.

Trees/landscaping

Malls are not necessarily the best commercial facilities, and they encourage the propagation and repetitiveness of chain stores over local business. If the streets were people-focussed, then they could be activated for more and better local use.

Going inside is likely a response to escaping exposure to the elements and cars.

If the streetscape is well designed with street trees and pedestrian priority, and a proactive transport system, then the unpleasantness associated with the 'inevitable' urban situation can be stopped.

This can encourage more community, and a village-like feel and organisation of the town, and increase the local self-reliance and character, instead of being just another dormitory suburb which drains on finances through maintenance of poor infrastructure and vampirical monopoly.

The guidelines need to be changed as early as possible to set up people-beneficial infrastructure that isn't absorbed in the status-quo of 1960's America, and instead leads the world.

Carparks can make it look as though there was a bombing.
Obviously, they cannot yet be removed to be used for a profit instead of a dead loss.

In order to do so, the demand for parking needs to be reduced, and indeed, roughly 60% of car-use can be allayed, with the majority of car trips being within easy walking distance (3-6km).

It is these trips which need to be mode-shifted to walking, cycling, and public transport -- in a high quality, safe network.

It will allow us to get off the self-destructive cycle of car-dependence, and move to an accessible, choice-based transport system so that all concerns are met.

I think there are townhouses along here.
They are a part of the missing middle, though not necessarily the best.
There will eventually be less arbitrary regulation in order to better address liveability and affordability, but we must extend standards to world-class level.
Terraces tend to be more soundproof and insulated than detached houses.
They can also offer more privacy, such as in Woden's Barnet Close.
Having more of these, and also more multi-storey detached, can save land where it is expensive.
And land-value tax may be a possibility.

In most suburbs, residential streets aren't designed well. Streets aren't likely to be intensive here, so they should be narrower.
By having them wide, it encourages reckless and disruptive driving, when it should be easiest to exit the private realm to the easiest transport link.
The streets can be a fun and safe place for children without danger.
It will also remove the need for setbacks, free them up for gardens in the front or back, etc.

66483 Apr 15, 2022, 01:48 PM

Other improvement

There is an order of priority based on the efficiency of modes of transport. Trains, other public transport, walking, cycling, and then cars.

Cars are inefficient because they are a standalone machine which can carry only 4 or so people, mostly less; and they are not always active so are subsidised. You may have a sparse streetscape with a few people, which looks full of cars, but the few people walking equate to more people moving than the cars, which get an inordinate amount of priority for no reason.

So, the walking and cycling network needs to be as connected as the motor vehicle network, especially in the centre, and not hodge-podge (imagine if cars had to contend with it).

Safety is the main deterrence for people. If this barrier is overcome, such as with a Dutch-style model, then there will be numerous health and economic benefits.

Weaning off car-dependence will also save on personal money by thousands a year and help against inequality.

On the theme, it is not a matter of form, but of the features. Streets should provide a level of 1:1 enclosure, which is reflected in peaceful forests, and include urban canopies of street trees. It could also be an opportunity for local artists to design general utilities (like streetlamps; auto-dimming to preserve the night-sky) or colour a cohesive painting.

Take inspiration from some of the world's best examples, such as cities in similarly outstanding regions (e.g., Nordic, Swiss, etc.), and especially of the local environment and cultures.

This is a fantastic part of Canberra, and the consistency of the theme of Tuggeranong in the centre is admirable. It is especially well-designed along this part of the lake-front.

Indeed, Tuggeranong can take more advantage of the lake scene, as others have suggested, by creating a more 'active' waterfront, with small local businesses in small-scale lots on ground-floor shops, with outdoor dining and interaction.

This can also be greater integrated along from the waterfront into the interior of the centre, creating a bustling, continuous street scene.

People are more effective shoppers compared to cars, and through-traffic is almost completely useless, because they will not add anything except discomfort into the centre.

There is also opportunity to embrace density in a way that signifies that Canberra is not just any old place, and I believe that this will become easier with the shift to an 'outcomes-based' ACT planning model.

66434 Apr 15, 2022, 01:33 PM

"Missing-middle" density has the most benefits.

Other improvement

Perhaps allow better car-free ability instead to reduce the number of cars that take up space driving or create dead space on valuable land. So, make sure active travel networks are the most convenient option, and disincentive car-use when it is easiest to cycle or walk (less than 7km, or 22km for e-bikes).

66422 Apr 15, 2022, 01:20 PM

Other improvement

This is what may be called a "stroad", and acts as a funnel of traffic into the centre, which adds danger and noise.

All car traffic within the centre should be traffic-calmed to increase safety for vulnerable road users.

This includes consistent active travel and public transport routes in a cohesive network, separated uses, road design which is suitable to its use rather than just signposted.

At below 30km/h, vehicle and bicycle traffic may have the ability to be co-mingled, but on dangerous stretches the infrastructure needs to be separate to stop conflicts.

This extends to residential streets, which shouldn't be designed as car thoroughfares, but for slow-traffic to preserve amenity.

Again, this is "car-light", not "car-free" -- a world-class model for urban situations that needs to be standard in Canberra and Australia.

65604	Apr 14, 2022, 09:03 PM	This shared path intersection should be upgraded to make it easier to continue along the lake path. Currently it is a dead patch of grass, gravel and dirt. There are many desire paths showing how people actually use the space that could be turned into proper asphalt pathways.	Path improvements
65593	Apr 14, 2022, 09:00 PM	This corner can be a choke point between people fishing, cyclists and pedestrians (especially with wider equipment like kids in prams or with pets).	Path improvements
65581	Apr 14, 2022, 08:58 PM	There is a missing link between these paths that are blocked by a car park.	Path improvements
65573	Apr 14, 2022, 08:56 PM	This pathway and corner can sometimes be a choke point between pedestrians and cyclists. The path is narrow, and there are trees and benches blocking movement (but are nice from an usability and amenity point of view though).	Path improvements
65561	Apr 14, 2022, 08:54 PM	The path on this corner could be widened to make it safer for pedestrians and cyclists to interact here.	Path improvements
65555	Apr 14, 2022, 08:52 PM	The narrow brick path under this bridge could be widened to accommodate pedestrians and cyclists better.	Path improvements
65548	Apr 14, 2022, 08:51 PM	This corner is often covered in a thick layer of sand, making it easy for bicycle tyres to get stuck. The turning radius of this corner is also a bit awkward.	Path improvements
65543	Apr 14, 2022, 08:50 PM	There is a rough edge and mismatch in height between these two paths. This could be smoothed out to make transitioning between these paths safer.	Path improvements
65536	Apr 14, 2022, 08:48 PM	This spot can sometimes be a choke spot between pedestrians and cyclists because the path is fairly narrow and there are concrete barricades that reduce the width even further. Many of these sections have been widened around other parts of the lake in the past years, but this has been overlooked.	Path improvements
65527	Apr 14, 2022, 08:46 PM	There is lots of plastic rubbish stuck in between the reeds at the waterfront here.	Bins
65523	Apr 14, 2022, 08:45 PM	The footpath is often covered in sand and dirt, and could be widened to ease pedestrian and cyclist interactions. This whole area needs to be given some love to make it more welcoming!	Path improvements

65516	Apr 14, 2022, 08:44 PM	The brickwork here is often damaged, with many holes around creating a hazardous surface.	Path improvements
65514	Apr 14, 2022, 08:43 PM	This sharp corner is often a choke point between cyclists and pedestrians. You can see a "desire path" that cuts the corner on the gravel that would be a straighter line for cyclists to navigate.	Path improvements
65513	Apr 14, 2022, 08:40 PM	This is another crossing point for pedestrians and cyclists across a road leading to car parking. It would be good to make this a shared zone, to give pedestrians and cyclists priority in crossing, to reduce the risk of accidents.	Path improvements
65512	Apr 14, 2022, 08:38 PM	The footpath in this area needs to be dramatically upgraded, as it is narrow and the concrete is broken, causing a trip and fall hazard for pedestrians and cyclists. It would be good to widen and upgrade this to a shared path, as it is one of the major thoroughfares between Erindale and Chisholm shops.	Path improvements
65511	Apr 14, 2022, 08:35 PM	Pedestrians and cyclists cross the road entry way to this car park. Most of the time there is no issue of collisions, but to make the space safer to cross, it would be good to make this space a shared zone to give pedestrians and cyclists priority in crossing.	Path improvements
65510	Apr 14, 2022, 08:29 PM	The path can get quite narrow here when there is construction and maintenance equipment setup near the spillway access point. This seems to have become a permanent feature over the last months?	Path improvements
65509	Apr 14, 2022, 08:21 PM	Barricades were previously installed to prevent damage to the waterfront from people driving their cars to go fishing. This is still a problem because narrow cars still fit through the barricades, and wider cars are parked on the nearby green areas, causing damage to the grass and trees on waterfront areas and interfering with the leisure aspect of the lake.	Other improvement
65508	Apr 14, 2022, 08:17 PM	There is significant damage to these green areas from people driving 4WDs on the swampy grass.	Trees/landscaping
65507	Apr 14, 2022, 08:11 PM	There is always lots of rubbish under this bridge. The rubbish is usually disposable packaging that comes from the fast food outlets (KFC, McDonald's, Domino's) on the other side of the lake. There are often many people fishing and socialising on this side of the lake, and not many bins available to dispose of packaging. The packaging usually gets blown into Lake Tuggeranong when it is windy.	Bins

65334	Suggest that there be a dedicated team of gardeners for the Foreshore. They would then be closely associated with the area and be across regular maintenance hot spots. There is a prevalence of weeds and graffiti around Lake Tuggers. It is great to plant trees and bushes but they need to be maintained too. The Centenary Park is laid out like a Parisian garden but there is a total lack of maintenance with weeds everywhere. It is a stunning piece of planning but has been left for the weeds to flourish.	Trees/landscaping
65333	I suggest that any pathways have separated sides for walkers and cyclists. In Vancouver a wide pathway is separated by a raised central medium strip to separate walkers and cyclists. This would avoid accidents between fast moving cyclists and walkers. My other suggestion is that a speed limit for cyclists of 10kms an hour be applied to the pathways around the Lake. If cyclists wish to travel at high speeds they should use the road system.	Path improvements

64366	The grade separated bike paths along Soward Way between Athllon Drive and Anketel Street are missing. Ideally, we should have a continuous 3 m wide two-way Local Community Route connecting the bridge with Athllon Drive along Soward Way.	Path improvements
64365	Yes, I know it is a building site but let us hope that one day this path will be restored so the C5 is continuous only Ankeetell Street.	Path improvements
64364	The area under the bridge is a death trap. The lake path is separated from the road by a high wall. The footpath under the bridge is narrow and does not conform to the minimum requirements of a bike path. To get this area active, block the road off and widen the park to the full width - green and add good lighting, a good bike path connecting the lake to the surrounds along Reed Street North and South.	Path improvements

64363	Apr 11, 2022, 04:13 PM	The path between Tuggeranong Library and Tuggeranong Town Park is part of the lake circuit and therefore should be wide and easy to walk and ride. It is not.	Path improvements
63614	Apr 06, 2022, 12:54 PM	More-effective prevention is needed against unauthorised vehicles entering the lakeside area. Wildlife, pedestrians and cyclists currently still have to dodge cars entering to drive across lawns and paths to get to the lake. The vehicles also ruin the grass, creating deep muddy ruts.	Other improvement
62599	Apr 04, 2022, 08:43 PM	This would be a good place to make a cars give way for priority access to pedestrians. This would be consistent with similar access roads around Canberra's other lakes.	Path improvements
62597	Apr 04, 2022, 08:40 PM	It would be great if there was a continuous cycle path around the lake, rather than switching to pavement for this section of the lake.	Path improvements
62492	Apr 04, 2022, 07:20 AM	Can you fix this path us so there are not loose stones on the corner - a real risk for riders.	Trees/landscaping
62472	Apr 03, 2022, 08:46 PM	A bike and scooter specific path really needs to be built around the lake. This should be in addition to the walking path. This would make it much better for all users and safer for walkerâ€™s and joggerâ€™s.	Path improvements
62468	Apr 03, 2022, 08:25 PM	I would like to see lighting around the whole lake path (particularly Northern and Eastern sides) not just the western foreshore and South Quay apartment block areas. This would bring more people to the lake in the after hours (morning and evenings) and greater recreation.	Other improvement
62086	Apr 02, 2022, 04:14 PM	Continue the great landscaping work of improving the wetlands and waterways into the lake to improve the overall health and safety of the lake water by reducing nutrient run-off and algae blooms.	Trees/landscaping
62085	Apr 02, 2022, 04:12 PM	Foot and cycle path on the southern side of Isabella Drive and the Eastern side of Drakeford drive, giving Isabella residents easier access to Greenway and greater opportunity to enjoy the Upper Stranger Pond area.	Path improvements

62082 Apr 02, 2022, 04:09 PM	Perhaps squeeze some additional parking space in here or other locations for the southern side of the lake. With so many new apartments taking prime land next to the lake, the Bunnings carpark will end up being constantly filled by people wanting to visit shops or friends in these complexes, use the amenities, or visit the recreational spaces next to the lake. This will be an even more significant issue on weekends, when Bunnings is most popular, and impact the ability of actual customers to park easily in the store's carpark.	Other improvement
62077 Apr 02, 2022, 03:59 PM	Convert more of the concrete lined waterways that enter the lake to wetlands or grassed channels that use native plants. These will then absorb excess nutrient run-off created by debris in stormwater drains, reducing the amount and risks of algae blooms, improving the overall health and safety of the lake for people and the environment.	Trees/landscaping
62076 Apr 02, 2022, 03:54 PM	Would be lovely to have picnic and seating area at this section of the lake	Picnic facilities
62064 Apr 02, 2022, 03:26 PM	The path at the southern end of the lake does not go all the way around to create a full loop.	Path improvements
62045 Apr 02, 2022, 02:22 PM	Some beautiful landscaping and interesting sculptures like at Kingston foreshore would make this beautiful spot a lot more inviting. Maybe some shade would be useful as well and encourage more users.	Trees/landscaping

61930	Apr 01, 2022, 10:32 PM	Play equipment could do with an upgrade and better fencing. More shady seating when watching children. It is very popular with coffee shop near by.	Play improvements
61929	Apr 01, 2022, 10:30 PM	This playground could have more shade. The equipment gets very very hot on sunny days. Also the play areas could be more connected. It is difficult when you are watching more than one child. It would benefit from being fully fenced as it is so close to the water. Toilets are always a good improvement especially with young children.	Play improvements
61897	Apr 01, 2022, 06:43 PM	Same comment made earlier re choke point and 90 deg turn in the shared path, also occurs here in this location. It's OK for pedestrians only, but not if it's a shared path.	Path improvements
61896	Apr 01, 2022, 06:39 PM	This location is at a narrow part of the path with a 90 deg turn, a choke point for bike riders, strollers and pedestrians. It is potentially dangerous and needs to be widened to allow safe passing. The other path shown closer to the water is a timber boardwalk at a lower level and can't be used by bike riders	Path improvements
61818	Apr 01, 2022, 03:40 PM	Close Anketell Street at this crossing and create a wide, closed-to-traffic plaza. Taxis, Ubers, couriers, disabled, pick-ups and drop-offs etc will still be able to use parts of Anketell either side of the plaza but traffic will no longer use it as a thoroughfare. This was proposed and planned for by the ACT government years ago but never eventuated.	Other improvement
61798	Apr 01, 2022, 01:58 PM	This area is always very quiet and it would be great to incentivise more businesses such as restaurants/shops to set up there. Maybe even a community space for markets and festivals, or a permanent food truck area. It would help improve the nightlife here.	Other improvement
61785	Apr 01, 2022, 01:23 PM	This would be an ideal place for a new formal park with lawns, trees and seating. There is a large number of residents here now and some calm space would be beneficial. 60690	Mar 31, 2022, 10:48 AM	There is a need for a boat launching landing on the other side of the lake to the Lake Tuggeranong Rowing Club landing. Improvements to the skate park; More bins; Upgraded public toilets; Improved car parking; New/upgraded play spaces

The skatepark was built in 1995 and could do with a serious makeover to bring it up to par with today's standards. I've logged 2 jobs to have repairs conducted on the 2 half pipes as they are actually unsafe to ride at the moment, but nothing happens.

Drinking fountains; 5 Shade sail

Slides and forts; Climbing structures; Active play

Improved car parking; More bins; Spaces for outdoor vendors

Needs to attract the family elements, not the undesirable elements. Needs to be well lit and maintained.
