I seek all current documents about ACT government policy regarding responsibility for trees on leased land parcels for the past 5 years.
For example, documents indicating that the ACT government is responsible for the removal, pruning or other maintenance of trees in any of the following circumstances:
(a) where the tree was present on a land parcel prior to its lease;
(b) for trees that are partly on public land and partly on private land;
(c) for protected trees;
(d) for trees that have been present on a privately leased land parcel for any particular period (say 50 years or some other threshold).

This is a public interest request relating to tree safety in ACT suburbs.

Provide a statement about how the release of information is in the public interest (optional)

The ACT government has several trees on nature strips that are large gum trees that have a history of dropping large boughs. I have one in the street which regularly drops very large boughs of significant size and weight. The policy stance on tree removal is an impediment to safety and needs to be explored. It is impossible to do so without access to relevant document setting out ACT government policy.

Would you like to provide any additional information? (optional)
