

Trees are Key drawing competition

Entries close Friday 22 March 2024

Every tree in Canberra is part of an urban forest. Our urban forest protects us by providing shade to keep us cool, cleaning the air, creating homes for native wildlife, and much, much more!

To enter the competition, you need to create an artwork that responds to the theme “Trees are key”. Use your imagination and show us through your artwork why trees are so important.

Winning entries will be selected from each age group from five to 12 years of age and displayed during Canberra Tree Week in May 2024 in a special outdoor exhibition at the Australian National Botanic Gardens. Winners will also receive a plant kindly donated by the Yarralumla Nursery.

How to enter

1. Make your artwork

Drawings can be in pencil, paint, crayon, mixed media or digitally created.

You can do your drawing on the back of this page or on your own piece of paper.

The layout of your artwork must be portrait (vertical), not landscape (horizontal).

TIP: If including text, limit words to no more than 10 so they can be read from a distance.

2. Photograph your artwork

Take a high-resolution photo of the artwork and keep the photo handy – we will need the file if yours is a winning entry.

3. Submit your artwork

You can submit your artwork by post or email.

Email

Send a photo of your artwork (no more than 6 MB) and your entry form to treeweek@act.gov.au.

Post

Remember to take a high-resolution photo of your artwork before posting it to the following address:

Tree Week - S Ning
Urban Treescapes, TCCS
480 Northbourne Ave, Dickson ACT 2602

If you have any questions, please email treeweek@act.gov.au
